Travel to France With Your Medical Cannabis Prescription

Navigating the regulations for traveling with medical cannabis can be complex. Here are the key points to ensure a smooth journey:

Entering France with Medical Cannabis

Prescription Requirement:

- You must have a valid prescription from a healthcare provider.
- The prescription should be in your name and specify the medication and dosage.

European Union (EU) Rules:

- If you are traveling within the EU, the Schengen Agreement allows for the recognition of medical prescriptions across member states.
- Each country, however, has its own regulations regarding medical cannabis.

Quantity Limit:

- You can only carry the amount of medical cannabis necessary for your personal use for the duration of your stay, as specified in your prescription.

Documentation:

- Carry all relevant documentation, including:
- A copy of your prescription
- A letter from your prescribing doctor detailing your medical condition and the necessity of the medication
- Proof of identity (e.g., passport)

Customs Declaration:

- Declare the medical cannabis upon arrival at customs. Failure to do so can result in penalties or confiscation of the medication.

Travel to France With Your Medical Cannabis Prescription

Leaving France with Medical Cannabis

Prescription and Documentation:

- Similar to entering France, you must have a valid prescription and all necessary documentation.

Destination Country Rules:

- Check the regulations of the country you are traveling to, as laws regarding medical cannabis vary significantly between countries.
- Some countries have strict prohibitions against cannabis, even for medical use.

Customs Declaration:

- Declare your medical cannabis at customs when leaving France to avoid any legal issues.

Science in the City International is committed to abiding by all international and local rules and regulations. Please note that there will be no consumption of cannabis at the event.
